

A NEW ERA FOR

INSURETECH

BBD's software development skillset has helped to enable technical progression for our clients in the insurance sector for more than 25 years.

As a leading software development company, BBD has been instrumental in some of the most innovative software transformations to sweep the insurance sector.

From assisting one of the first companies in the EU to develop a cloud-based software solution, to redesigning core systems for a fast-growing African insurer, we understand what it takes to modernise this key economic sector.

BBD provides not only insightful consulting services for both investment and risk product providers, but also acts as a technology partner to empower better business through technology.

Overview of BBD in the insurance sector

Understanding that a blend of simplicity and flexibility often enables the most optimised solutions for risk and investment product insurers, allows us to develop software that meets the requirements of an organisation's core business operations.

For leading insurers globally, our Agile teams have redesigned and developed a full line of business, premium collections and broker commission payment systems. Whether it is customised automatic quoting systems or broker administration platforms and case management and workflow systems – we create and implement quality solutions while keeping the economy of scale in check.

BBD's talented teams work alongside clients to ensure deep understanding within each unique environment. This understanding is bolstered by our own specialised industry knowledge and experience.

Solutions BBD has provided in the risk product market

BBD strives to create truly usable software that enables you to provide your customers with the best possible service.

Mobile enterprise applications

BBD has developed an innovative enterprise application for a leading UK-based insurer. The mobile app mitigates the threat of an open mobile network through the use of client certificates that ensure the existing security and business logic can remain intact, while increasing broker efficiency when they are away from their desktops.

Commercial insurance platforms

The commercial insurance platform BBD built for a fast-growing short-term insurer allows for rapid client onboarding, online reporting, and helps make compliance easier.

Calculations engine

Our generic calculations engine allows for custom calculation and rule models. With a user-friendly interface for easy model creation and maintainability, the engine gives you control over your rule models. The integrated simulator component allows you to rerun risk calculations and compare production results so that you can make an informed decision on potential risk calculation changes.

Solutions BBD has provided in the investment product market

Based on your organisation's life insurance and investment product offerings, BBD develops custom platforms, apps and advisor portals that decrease application turnaround time and increase efficiency.

International broker websites

Using the latest tech, we have designed, developed and are maintaining an international broker portal for a leading global investment provider. The site provides brokers with a toolset to interact and use all of the investment tools applicable across their international teams. With a continuous integration solution, the site allows for a fast to market turnaround time for new feature builds.

Desktop applications

We built a desktop application which can be used offline by financial advisors to create local and international investment and annuity quotes for a top insurer in South Africa. The integrated prompts system allows for users to be guided through the necessary updates when next connected to the network.

Broker applications

BBD's custom-built broker-facing applications assist brokers to manage their clients and provide quotes for prospective investments. The visually rendered fund data and recommendations are based on a customer's specific needs, to assist in streamlining processes.

Data security and compliance

In this data-centric world, we understand the importance of keeping your client's personal information secure. Our teams receive extensive internal training to ensure we can meet all regulatory requirements.

We are skilled at assessing the necessary regulations such as the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and offer detail-driven consulting services to assist you in maintaining data sovereignty and ensuring all compliance needs are met.
